

Everyday now. Texas

Just woke up
I can see it now
It's never been this close before
Tried to tell myself
I didn't care
Crying out
Why am I here
There's no point in me hiding
And only now
I can see

Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me

Something deep inside
Said move away
Try to leave
What's good behind
And I still ask myself
Why I let it go
All those years
Were wasted time
There's no point in me hiding
And only now
I can see

Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me
Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me

Cause I never told you
That I could never live without it
Now the blame's on me
'Cause I never told you
That I could never live without it
Now the blame's on me

Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me
Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me
Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me

Cause I never knew the feeling
And it changed me and I never knew
Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me
Everyday now
Everyday now
The blame's gonna fall on me
